NOW FOR THE BIG GAMES
OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON.

Strongest of Minor College Elevens
Wind Up Their Struggles Against the Big University Teams on the Various Gridirons This Week.

The period of the minor football struggles is over. Mid-season is drawing near, and this week will see the strongest of the minor colleges meet the big fellows in contest. The biggest game of the week will be that on the Polo Grounds when Bill Morley's Columbia boys line up against the study set from the University of Pennsylvania. It should be a game worth going a distance to see, for performances of the two elevens to date have shown that they are made up of the best material seen in the universities in years.

Yale's great team will go to West Point, where the soldiers will be tackled. While victory is assured the sons of Eli, the game will help greatly to give a line on the relative merits of Yale and Harvard. Last Saturday the winners of the crimson won by a score of 5 to 0.

The Brown team will be Harvard's opponent at Cambridge, and that in a measure will help sift the rightful holders of the championship this year, as well as give a line on the probable outcome between Harvard and Pennsylvania. On Saturday the Penns team won by the score of 30 to 0.

Princeton will have the easiest time of the lot, having nothing harder than the Dartmouth eleven to stack up against.

PENNSY'S ELEVEN WILL MAKE COLUMBIA HUSTLE.

There is no question that a week has brought a big improvement in Columbia's eleven. But what will the wearers of the blue and white do against Pennsylvania on Saturday? That is a question Coach Bill Morley is having tried at him nearly every minute of the day. The Pennsylvanians have the strongest team they have had in years. The men are heavy, but about a pound and a half to a man lighter than the Columbians. But they are taller.

YALE PRACTISES
IN SECRET NOW

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 19.—Yale's team begins its secret practice to-day, and will continue with it throughout the week. Several new plays will be worked out, and the coaches have hopes of showing something good when the team lines up against West Point on Saturday. Heretofore, if the famous old line-man, who plays with the team all week and give whatever assistance he can.

TIGERS NOW HAVE HOSPITAL LIST

(Special to The World.)
PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 19.—With Dartmouth playing last Saturday, Cornell the week after and the Tigers' foot ball on the increase, the aspect of football affairs is not as encouraging as it might be. Up to the present time Princeton has been more favored by Dame Fortune than most of the other large universities in regard to injuries. The Brown game started the hospital list. At Providence Barney was laid out and has developed a serious case of water on the knee, which will end his playing for a long time. Several others of the players received minor injuries in that game, and the one with Leitch, Saturday's game, added another to the list. Rulon Miller, the freshman who gave promise of developing into a star end, broke his nose in the last five minutes of play when tackling Johnson, the Indian captain.

HARVARD'S TEAM
AROUSES HOPE

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 19.—There is just a little encouragement in the camp of the Harvard football players now. That is due to the victory over West Point's study team on Saturday. The fact that only eleven men were played in the game, and all came through without injury, speaks well for "Doc" McElster's training methods. McElster is highly encouraged. He says now that the crimson wearers have a good chance of winning the game with Yale. Critics are not so confident. They say Harvard will have to show much better form if she even hopes to hold her own against the New England team. Punting was the most noticeable feature of the game, and the correction of the fault will come the time of the coaches from now on.

MUNROE ON THE GRIDIRON
PLAYS GAME LIKE A STAR

Miner Was the Hero at Harlem Oval and Won for Olympics.

There are many who are averse to believing that Jack Munroe, the ex-miner from Butte, can fight, even though he did give and take with Jim Jeffries, the champion, for four rounds last winter. But there are about 2000 New Yorkers who will swear that the man from the West is a skilful star as a football player.

These two thousand saw the giant in a uniform of the Olympic A. C. on Harlem Oval, at One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street and Madison avenue, yesterday. He looked good in it. Looked as mild as a kitten, too. That's the way he appeared to a giant named Creighton, of the West Point Engineers, who played opposite Munroe at right tackle. In just one minute after play was called Creighton changed his mind.

GANS AND GRIM
FIGHT TO-NIGHT

Joe Grim, the Philadelphia middle-weight, whose proud boast is that no one can knock him out in six rounds, is scheduled to go that distance with Joe Gans, the light-weight champion, to-night in Philadelphia.

Grim has met heavy-weights and middle-weights and stuck it out with all of them. He is confident that he will have an easy time with Gans. The latter is a lighter all through and a hard puncher. Whether or not he will win, any better than Fitz did against Grim is a question that only to-night will tell.

COLLEGE GOLFERS
PLAY FOR TITLE

The intercollegiate golf championship is to begin to-morrow on the links of the Garden City Golf Club. It promises to be a grand struggle for the team championship between Harvard, Yale and Princeton, as they all have strong teams. Columbia will not be represented in the team match, but the University of Pennsylvania will.

POLICE "QUEERED"
THIS PRIVATE GO

Jerry Sullivan and Benny Leon did not decide their fight to a finish in private, as was planned Saturday night. The vigilance of the Staten Island police caused the disappointment. The promoters of the "mill" said they were going to hold the bout in New Jersey, but the ferry took them to Staten Island. They did not want to change their course then, so the woods were taken to and a subway several miles from a railroad was sought. They got there all right, but found the police on its way to St. George, and the fight crowd had to sit up in the rain, get wet and try to laugh at the jests sprung by would-be vaudevillians.

WHEN CHAMPION JIM JEFFRIES ARRIVES IN NEW YORK.

Conqueror of Them All in Chicago Now, Speaks Disparagingly of Munroe and Praises the Fighting Ability of Fitzsimmons.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Jim Jeffries will be in New York in a couple of days. He is here now and has said nothing about fight, but has made allusions to meeting Jack Munroe. "Jeff" thinks he is going to have a hard time inducing the ex-miner to meet him in a ring. "They'll need a derrick to drag him in a ring with me," is the uncomplimentary manner in which the champion speaks of the man who stood him off for four rounds in Butte last winter.

"Jeff" took the time to talk about other fighters, and says Fitz is the greatest middle-weight in the world and that he can double them all up as fast as they come. He picks Fitz to hand it to George Gardner. Concluding all conversations, "Jeff" says he is entitled to a rest, but that he is ready to talk fight with any white man in the world. He says he is not afraid of colored men, but that when the time comes for him to be given a beating he wants a man of his own color to give it to him.

SUNNY SIDE A
SMART FILLY

Littlefield Sends Her the Mile
Route and She Is Pulled Up in
1.45—Bay Track in Fair
Shape.

SHEPHERD BAY, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The track here to-day was safe and good, but not fast. J. A. Drake's Runnels, South Trimble, Jound and Ortwell, going together, covered six furlongs in 1.21.2. There was no advantage at the finish and all seemed to be in crack condition. Ocean Tide and Hupala breezed three furlongs in 27.1-2.

H. J. Morris's Prince Ching and Guy Park reeled off six furlongs in 1.17.2. Charter and Ormasta did the distance in 1.21. R. W. Walden sent Wealth, Lux Oata and Invincible seven furlongs together in 1.35. McNaughton sent Champion six furlongs in 1.21. M. Danahar's Monarch and Briar Thorpe going together, turned three furlongs in 1.33. Southampton did five furlongs in 1.11.2.

AQUEDUCT IS IMPROVED.

The Aqueduct race-track will be almost brand new for its fall meeting, which begins next Monday. The straightaway course has been enlarged, the grand stand extended and more stable room added. The "chute" is for two-year-old events. It starts down in a tomato patch on an adjoining farm, and joins the main track in the homestretch with scarcely a bend to it. It is practically straight. Races of six and seven furlongs will be decided over the main course.

HERE'S THE TROTTER
RACE OF A LIFETIME

Lou Dillon and Major Delmar, Fastest Harness Horses of the Age, Meet To-Morrow.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 19.—With fine weather, the greatest race in the history of harness will be decided here to-morrow. Lou Dillon, the first trotter to step a mile in two minutes, will be one of the starters. Opposed to her will be the king of trotters, Major Delmar, who, too, has 200 behind his name. The race will be the Gold Cup, and the great trotter will be driven by their owners, respectively, G. K. G. Billings and E. E. Smathers. The race will be an event in the history of the city and the declaration of a holiday would come as no surprise. Nearly every resident of Memphis has about decided to see the race. The two horses have many backers and in the pool it will be $100 and take your pick. None but experts can figure out the probable result. Major Delmar by his season of competition is given the preference. Lou Dillon has seldom, if ever, started in a race, and just

HERMIS WORKS OUT FOR BIG CUP RACE

Son of Hermence Steps a Handy
Mile at the Gravesend Track
—Course Still Heavy from Recent Rains.

GRAVESEND, Oct. 19.—Glorious weather this morning, but a heavy track, made anything in the line of sensational work out of the question. Henry Graham ordered his four-year-old gelding Khite destroyed, the racer having been injured by being thrown on the fence during the running of a race at the fall meeting of the Brooklyn Jockey Club.

E. R. Thomas's Hermis was let down a mile in preparation for his engagement in the cup to be decided to-morrow, reeling off the distance in 1.48.1-4. The horse was well in hand all of the journey. Arthur Featherstone's Igniter, who is also engaged in the cup, was breezed a mile in 1.53. Burlew's Albertola and The Lady Rhodesia were sent a half mile in 53 seconds. Embarrassment stepped five-eighths of a mile in 1.08.1-2.

BECKMAN'S TROPHY.

By winning the obstacle race at the final members' games of the New West Side A. C. yesterday, William Beckman captured the point trophy for the season of 1903. Beckman scored a greater number of points in the competitions of the past year than any other athlete, his total being 22. Patrick J. Callahan, the diminutive speed merchant of the club, won the 70-yard scratch sprint for the club championship. He had some difficulty beating Chester Peabody, who, despite a slow start, closed rapidly and was only a few feet back at the tape.
